CITIZENS TO BUILD NEW CITY ON SCENES OF QUAKE DISASTER

Death Toll Under Score While Loss May Exceed $35,000,000.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., July 1.—A small death toll and a gigantic property loss.

That was the summary of the situation today following careful checking forty-eight hours after the terrific earth shocks rocked this ancient city.

This morning for the first time it was definitely believed that the toll of dead would not exceed a score.

Thirteen persons known dead, five additional missing and believed killed, and forty-one injured, made up the casualty list early today.

Tremors have entirely ceased and no shocks of any strength have been felt for 24 hours.

The property damage was regarded by many investigators as possibly greater than previously estimated. It may reach the fearful figure of $35,000,000 although city officials of Santa Barbara declared they hoped it would come under the ten million mark.

Santa Barbara, July 1.—Undaunted by the two more earth shocks that shook this "quake-torn" city last night, Santa Barbara went resolutely and cheerfully today about the task of building a greater city on the ruins of the old.

The two latest tremors did no damage other than to scatter a few loose bricks in the already littered streets, and cause a momentary panic among those who came unharmed through Monday's experience.

A relief fund of $20,000,000 and a reconstruction fund of $20,000,000—these are the immediate objectives of the reconstructionists. Indications were today that both will speedily be forthcoming.

It will take some days to clear the streets of wreckage and debris. Thousands labored at it today. Now and then a worker paused in his work to peer under the tangled piles of iron and concrete where may be found other victims of Monday's disaster.

The death list, however, is not expected to increase materially beyond the twelve now known to be dead and identified. The score or more of injured will all recover, it was said, today.

COOLIDGE PARTY IS BACK AT SWAMPSCOTT TO RESUME VACATION

Routine In Effect—Hardboiled Cop Bawls Out Party In Lowell, Mass.

Swampscott, Mass., July 1.—Back of the summer white house here after a dramatic race into the Green mountains of Vermont, where his aged father lay at the point of death President Coolidge today looked forward hopefully to uninterrupted resumption of his vacation plans.

The ordinary routine, involving disposition of official business via Washington, and temporary executive offices at Lynn and White Court, was entered into as usual.

Secretary to the President Saunders laid before the present a mass of reports and papers that had accumulated during the three days in Vermont and Erwin Geiser, personal stenographer, journeyed over to Swampscott to take dictation.

Mr. Coolidge is hopeful that no further trip to the old family homestead at Plymouth will be necessary until late in the summer when he originally had planned to visit there for ten days or two weeks.

The truly remarkable recovery of his father, Colonel John Coolidge from the serious illness that developed last week has enheartened him greatly.

Colonel Coolidge is 80 years old, however; his heart is weak and he has just undergone a serious bladder operation.

Major James F. Coupal, the president's personal physician remains behind at Plymouth and is reporting regularly to Swampscott.

Dr. Arthur L. Chute, Boston specialist, is scheduled to return to the bedside Thursday for an additional diagnosis to determine whether a second operation must be performed.

The president is holding himself in readiness to return to his boyhood home at once if necessary.

Then, emulating most tourists, the party got lost repeatedly. In Lowell, Mass., a number of false starts were made before the correct route was located.

And it was in Lowell that the crown prince had drawn up to the curb while "Robbie" the chauffeur, asked directions. "No," he said, "I don't know the way."

FESS CAUTIONS FARMERS NOT TO EXPECT CONGRESS TO CURE ILLS

Senator Addresses 300 at Farm Bureau Picnic Honoring Retiring County Agent—Bryson and Williamson Also Talk.

Cautioning farmers that they need not put too much dependence on Congressional acts for relief and solution of their problems, United States Senator S. D. Fess, Yellow Springs, declared the ultimate success of agriculture and the answer to all its problems lie in cooperation and united efforts, in his address the feature of the annual Greene County Farm Bureau picnic at the fairgrounds, Tuesday afternoon.

"You can't legislate into prosperity," he declared, "Congress and the Senate can't and won't do it."

"You can't cut taxes as long as you pass laws to raise them and keep up the expenditures of the country. Men demand legislation on one hand and tax reduction on the other—you can't have both. We have got to work along sound economic lines."

"Every farmer should realize that his is a business which is above all other essential. Farming is inevitable and must be done profitably. Come what will to other business, farming must be a good business."

"Don't launch the government on price fixing in anything. That would be Socialism run wild."

In briefly discussing the Muscle Shoals proposition, Senator Fess declared he "would rather vote for Henry Ford's $5,000,000 proposal, which I think far below the value of the shoals, than I would vote for the government operating the business. He commended the Underwood proposal of the government leasing the shoals and obtaining a lease and if this was not profitable, to complete the work and operate the business. This bill, however, was defeated and is still suspended.

"I hope to the Lord that the government will never have to operate Muscle Shoals," said Senator Fess. "We had our experience with the railroads and now with the shipping board."

The speaker discussed the reduction of the federal tax and the increase of state tax, stating that the federal tax had been reduced 50 percent per capita, or two billions of dollars a year since 1921. He estimated this country's part in the World War would be paid for within thirty years.

State taxes are increased 100 percent due to two causes, namely good roads and good schools, he said. "Since roads are being built because of automobiles, it is my firm belief that the automobiles should maintain the roads," the speaker declared.

"Don't put too much dependence on the government," he repeatedly told the farmers. "Don't think that anything that is wrong can be corrected by passing a law."

"Greene County is characterized by its high grade of citizenship," Senator

Fess said. "No one, farmers in particular, can do much without unity of action. Individual effort is of value in itself, but you can't get along with everyone acting as an individual."

"The farm problem is an important one but not a serious one," was his opinion. "It grows out of the character of the individual farm. There are so many farmers that can't be independent and see the economic solution of problems. It is for their benefit that the Farm Bureau is doing its work."

"The farmers' complaint is not what he had to take for his produce but what he had to pay for the materials which he needs to produce," Senator

ROY HAYNES MAY RUN FOR GOVERNOR

Washington, July 1.—Reports were received here again today that prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes would leave the government service shortly to become a candidate for governor of Ohio.

Haynes is 47 years old, is a native of Ohio, and has been in the federal service since 1917. He is a member of the Ohio bar and has been active in the prohibition movement.

Recent reorganization of prohibition enforcement methods, which contemplates the elimination of most of Haynes' authority after August 1, is understood to have influenced him to consider resigning.

Haynes is a Harding appointee and was engaged in the newspaper business in Ohio before coming to Washington.

RIFTS INCREASING PRESSURE AGAINST FRENCH REPORT

Prince of Denmark Wins Croix De Guerre With French Foreign Legion

London, July 1.—Riffian pressure on the French front again has been increased, according to Tangier dispatches to the Times.

Despite reversals encountered in the drive at Taza, the tribesmen are showing no desire to quit the struggle.

The French were successful in the upper Lebanon valley where the Riffs were reported to have lost 300 dead in the Halima district.

To the eastward the French have met the tribesmen in the vicinity of Msun, showing a still further penetration of the French protectorate.

Fez, French Morocco, July 1.—Prince Aage of Denmark, fighting as a captain in the French foreign legion, has received the croix de guerre for heroism in carrying orders under fire of the Riffian tribesmen in the defense of Bibane, it was announced today.

Prince Aage is a nephew of King Haakon of Denmark and a cousin of King Emmanuel of Italy.

GOLD STANDARD NOT FAVORED IN ITALY

Rome, July 1.—Italy has no intention of following the lead of Great Britain in returning to a gold standard.

Premier Mussolini made this clear in a strong denial today of rumors that the government would introduce gold lire and backed his statement with a threat to prosecute those who were spreading the rumors.

The reports had caused considerable uneasiness among Italian industrialists. Gold purchases by Italian financiers in the American market supported the reports, but it was denied the recent $2,000,000 purchase of bullion was for the government.

Rev. F. W. Stanton, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church: "The trial, in my opinion, is a big publicity scheme, more than a trial on the merits of the case. The legislature cannot determine truth, but it can legalize certain phases of it if it so desires. The majority does not make a thing right or wrong."

There are certain publicity features about the case which makes it distasteful. However, the freedom of the teaching profession is at stake. It is to have great interest in the case. The question involves the right of the state to control the schools.

Rev. W. H. Tilford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church: "The trial at Dayton will not settle anything evolutionary or religiously. Evolution is not on trial and cannot be put on such. The question is entirely legal and constitutional. A legislature cannot control belief or thinking but it can control the subject matter to be taught in the schools. Some states even designate through a commission, the standardized textbooks for the entire state. The legislature cannot determine truth, but it can legalize certain phases of it if it so desires. The majority does not make a thing right or wrong."

Xenia Ministers Favor State in Scopes Trial

Bring a Symposium On the So-Called "Monkey Case" Compiled By Phil Frame

Consensus of opinion among ministers of Xenia is that the coming trial of John T. Scopes, Dayton, Tennessee, alleged violation of the state statute which bans the teaching of evolution in the public schools of Tennessee is a farce and nothing more than a publicity scheme.

Rev. F. W. Stanton, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church: "The trial, in my opinion, is a big publicity scheme, more than a trial on the merits of the case. ### MARRIAGE.

THE newspapers tell of a man and woman who have been wed sixty-nine years, and pictures of them have been printed all over the country to glorify them so that the public can see their pictures and marvel at the longevity of their married life.

And thus a happy wedded life that has survived sixty-nine years of the trials and tribulations spoken of in the divorce court and the comic magazine, has come to be admired by many who wonder that the rocks that beset the marital seas have not wrecked the frail bark of their love.

For while a marriage of such perseverance a number of years ago would have been considered the casual thing, barring the death of either party, the ease of divorce and its frequency, have combined to make a long married life a thing to be spoken of with awe and to be written of in the newspapers.

So we say to the man in the picture: "Since you were married there has come into use the word 'incompatibility,' which is used to express all the little inconveniences, all the little heartaches, incidents of wounded vanity, curbs of freedom, and petty quarrels, that in this day and age find their answer in the divorce courts."

And he answers: "But we learned before embarking on the sea of matrimony that there would be many waves, large and small, heaving against our craft in the attempt to submerge it. And we learned that the real meaning of 'incompatibility' is selfishness and that the presence of tolerance, unselfishness, thoughtfulness, reason, common sense, restraint of temper and a submerging love are the foes of 'incompatibility' and these we used on the forces that attacked our married life."

And so we turn to the woman of the picture and say: "But you? Have you not been vexed beyond control and grieved to tears when this paramour of your selection forced upon you or attempted to force upon you submission to his will, his likes and dislikes and his own nature?"

taken before and after meals, is the antidote for the poisons that beset married life. It is true that man is frail and childish and woman, being superior, must submit to his petty tyrannies and thus rule him with love and unselfishness. And so we have come down through sixty-nine happy years to see our pictures in the papers and our names acclaimed for all to see."

LIFE.

EVERETT SCOTT, who played 1,307 consecutive baseball games for the New York Yankees before being forced to the bench, has been released to the Washington team of the American League.

Scott began his endurance record early in 1916 and until a few weeks ago was as dependable as Gibraltar at his chosen position. He began this season as his old position, but his legs faltered and he was eventually "benched" in favor of a younger man. Now then, his term of usefulness at an end, he is unconditionally released.

Life is largely like that. In the big leagues a player wins the plaudits of the crowd and the respect of the management as long as he plays his position with ability, hits well and helps the club in its drive for the pennant. When years cause him to lag, he is thrown into the discard.

In life, the players are chessmen moved by the hand of fate. As long as they are essential they are used to the advantage of the game, but when their presence is no longer needed, they are placed in the discard. Everett Scott, passing to the Washington team after setting up a big league playing record for players of all time to shoot at, has been given advantage over the way it is done in life. He has another chance.

Orange and lemons furnish a splendid basis for frozen desserts, as their flavor is strong enough to survive the lessening of flavor which the freezing process causes. The sherbet is simple to make, and an excellent hot weather dessert for the woman who must guard against growing stout by not eating the too fattening sweets. Try some of the following recipes:

Raspberry-Lemon Sherbet: Crush one quart of ripe raspberries and sweeten them with three-quarters of a cup of granulated sugar and elixir stand one hour. Meantime, boil together for five minutes, three-quarters of a cup of granulated sugar and two cups of water, then cool this sirup. Now take 1 quart of ripe raspberries and add their juice to the cooled sirup; also add two tablespoons of lemon juice and freeze in three parts of salt and one part of ice. When half frozen, stir in the stiffly whipped whites of two eggs, and finish freezing.

Orange-Banana Sherbet: Boil together for five minutes, one and half cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water, then cool this sirup. Now press six ripe bananas through a wide meshed sieve and add to them two cups of orange juice and two tablespoons of lemon juice. Combine this banana mixture with the sirup previously made, and freeze in three parts of salt and one part of ice. When half frozen, stir in the stiffly whipped whites of two eggs, and finish freezing.

Just How to Freeze a Sherbet: Bulk during the freezing process and if the can is crowded the dessert will be coarse grained. Now set the can in place, adjust dasher and handle, and pack in layers with ice and salt to the top—or, if the can is not to be full when finished, just cover the mixture's line with salt and ice. Now set your freezer in a dishpan, on a table so that it will be at a convenient height. Turn the crank slowly at first, then more rapidly when the ice is a mush. Never draw off the water, for it is very cold and is the vehicle which does the freezing. But when the sherbet is done, draw off this water, remove and scrape the dasher, cork the top of can, and repack with salt and ice to let stand an hour or two, and "ripen" this time using four parts of ice to one part of salt.

FOUNDER OF OSBORN BANK IS HONORED

Charles Harries Simms, founder and vice-president of the First National Bank, of Osborn, was elected director of the Winters National Bank and Trust Company of Dayton at a meeting of the board of directors Tuesday, it is announced.

Mr. Simms is well known in Ohio and Illinois banking circles and has had wide experience in banking. The late William J. Simms, his father, was president of the Dayton National Bank for fifty-five years.

Mr. Simms founded the Osborn First National Bank April 1, 1910 and has since been vice-president. He was also a member of the Paris exposition board of directors in 1900, appointed by President McKinley.

LEMONS BLEACH THE SKIN WHITE

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchar White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quart of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

EARTHQUAKES COMMON OCCURRENCE WHERE MILLEN DAVIDSON LIVES IN GUATEMALA

David Millen Davidson, of Central American Republic, who is visiting Xenia relatives for three months, comes from a country where earthquakes are a common occurrence.

"We have earthquakes every year. In season. In fact, they come with such regularity that unless they are exceptionally severe, no one pays them any attention," he said. "They cannot be truly called earthquakes but they are noticeable tremors."

All buildings in the city of Guatemala, as well as the republic itself, are designed to be safe from quakes, the tallest building being three stories high.

Guatemala has an active volcano.

Acatenago which when Mr. Davidson left the country, was issuing heavy black smoke, suggestive of an eruption.

The South American country is prosperous, according to Mr. Davidson the coffee, sugar, bananas and cattle raised bringing high prices with bumper crops of produce. Under the administration of General Orellana, president of Guatemala, the country is prospering and catering to tourists in a modern fashion.

Mr. Davidson is a ranch owner and raises thousands of bees annually for Guatemalan markets.

LETTUCE A LA LYONNAISE

Paris—For "lettuce a la Lyonnaise," wash well and blanch a small head for each guest. Drain and sponge. Place all in a buttered pan, salt, pepper and moisten with a very little water. Cook in a covered casserole for about an hour.

Cut each head in two parts; arrange on a large platter, alternating with triangles of bread fried in butter.

Make a sauce with two onions browned in butter, a little flour and vinegar. Cook for about twenty minutes. Remove from the fire and add a spoonful of butter and a little chopped parsley. Pour this over the lettuce and serve.

MODISH MITZI—Mitzi Breaks The News Gently

By JAY V.

Dad is slightly surprised that there is only one bill for Mitzi's clothes—this being the first of the month. But it is a bill for the very dress she has on—a pleated voile morning frock in pale cool green. Decidedly worth the money, is Dad's opinion.

Dad recognizes that it was an error to tell Mitzi how becoming this ensemble dress appears. She has the bill ready. There's nothing for him to do now but accept it gracefully—the dress is of plain and printed silk crepe made to give the effect of a suit.

And, of course, Mitzi looks charming in this evening costume—but she waits until the moment of leaving before she presents the bill. Dad has the system now and wonders how much longer the bills will hold out. Dress and wraps are of matching chiffon trimmed with ostrich.

Dad retired before Mitzi returned—not that that will help him any. Mitzi has her program and she sticks to it. This negligee—a charming one of crepe-back satin in pale peach color—also has a bill and Dad will be so surprised to find it sticking in his door in the morning.

hundred Greene County Farm their families attended the year which was arranged this year of Ford S. Prince, county agent for the past seven years, who has resigned to accept a position in New Hampshire.

picnic dinner was served in the ing hall at noon, followed by the resses. W. B. Bryson, president the county farm bureau, introduced ator Fess and gave a short talk the close of his address.

He voiced the sentiment of the farm bureau, and the county as a whole in losing Mr. Prince. He declared that the work Mr. Prince had accomplished could not be estimated and that the progress of the organization along allied lines is due to the foresightedness of Mr. Prince.

Mr. Prince was introduced for a short talk. He reviewed the accomplishments of the bureau during his regime, and declared that next to the schools the boys' and girls' club work is the greatest rural factor. He urged the capitalization of women's work and urged the carrying on of all departments of the Farm Bureau in the county.

"I hope for Greene County that she will obtain as a man to head the farm bureau, one with vision for the farm home, unreserved belief of the importance of the farm to the American commonwealth, better agriculture, boys and girls and men and women,"
were his closing words.

A short talk was given by R. D.
Williamson, state representative who said that he learned through his work in Columbus that Greene County is looked on as a leader in state agricultural affairs and that Xenia City is the most important agricultural city of this size in the state, due to its railroad, church, school, road and agricultural position. He expressed the belief that taxes in Ohio will never be reduced, but will instead go the other way, in order to maintain the high efficiency of the state work.

Long lives to you and happy be your years!
God bless the home your souls are pledged to build!
May it be free from doubts and hurra
and fears,
A gentle place, with love and laughter filled.

Yet you should know that life is not all sweet
And love is not all gladness, which a prayer
Can keep forever. Oft with faltering feet
There will be heavy burdens you must bear.

God strengthen you when love is being tried,
God hold you fast when disappointments rise,
Meet grief and trouble bravely, side
by side,
And love shall live though fortune
fades and dies.

God will be with you if you're brave
of heart,
Love will remain if you will bid it
stay,
But never let life's shams draw you
apart,
Together you must journey down
the way.

Grief may be yours but love will make it sweet,
Cares may descend, but love will live them through,
Keep faith and fear no danger you
may meet,
All will be well if only you be true.

WILL NAME HEAD OF DEFENSE DAY PLANS IN GREENE COUNTY

Major William J. Connolly, head of the army reserve activities in Dayton, who has been designated commander for various counties in the district, including Greene County, will probably appoint a chairman either Wednesday or Thursday to have complete charge of National Defense Day celebration in Greene County Saturday, it is announced.

Despite the lateness of the date, it is believed that some kind of demonstration will be given in Greene County. The task of mustering local patriotic organizations and completing plans for observance will have to be made within a short space of time.

Greene County will be included in the nine counties which will be visited by Major Connolly and Judge W.
C. Powell, chairman of the Montgom-

The New CHRYSLER FOUR

Walter P. Chrysler's Latest Achievement

Now Ready!

Walter P. Chrysler's full conception of what a four-cylinder car should be has now become a reality.

Mr. Chrysler announces
the new Chrysler Four,
companion car to the Chrysler Six. It is here, ready for your inspection.

Whether you are a car owner or not, by all means see this new Chrysler creation. Ride in it.
Get to know the latest Chrysler achievement which the master car builder identifies with his own name.

It will amaze you, for it is our firm conviction that the new Chrysler Four represents a better and finer combination of power, speed, fuel mileage and charm of appearance than any other four in the world today.

For four years Chrysler-created products have steadily advanced to the very fore-front of the four and six-cylinder fields.

Chrysler engineering, Chrysler manufacturing quality and Chrysler value eclipsed all previous production records for cars that might be considered comparable.

Every step of that irresistible advance was part of the process in preparation for the production of the new Chrysler Four answering the insistent public demand for another Chrysler.

The basis for the beauty of the new Chrysler Four is the dynamic symmetry which Chrysler engineers were first to translate into beautiful motor car design in the Chrysler Six.

The wonderful riding qualities of the new Chrysler Four cannot be described. You must experience them to know what an advance has been made in the four-cylinder field. It is enough to say that a ride will amaze and delight you.

And when you ride you'll notice the absolute quietness of the four-cylinder engine, you'll find no rumble or tremors in the body of the car.

Here is a car you can truly drive all day without fatigue. It is hardly ever necessary to shift gears, except for starting from a dead stop. When shifting is necessary it is made clean and noiselessly by the matched transmission gears and easy clutch action.

There has never been the like of the new Chrysler Four at anywhere near its price.
Be prepared for a great revelation.

TWENTY THOUSAND
TELEGRAMS HELD UP

San Francisco, June 30.—With only two direct telegraph wires in communication with Santa Barbara here today, the Western Union was swamped with messages from all over the United States of persons desiring to establish contact with friends and relatives in the stricken cities. Officials of the western union today announced there were twenty thousand telegrams on file in this city and Los Angeles for Santa Barbara.

In normal times from 500 to 1,000 messages a night are filed from the two cities for Santa Barbara.

The Postal Telegraph Company announced it had ten times the normal number of messages filed. The latter company has a wire within five miles of Santa Barbara. From this point the telegrams are rushed to the city by motorcycle.

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

By MICHAEL

CHAPTER LXXXIV.

The Pharleys arrived on Saturday, as scheduled, and Michael and Lilah met them at the station.

"My back is just about to kill me, Lilah. You know, the old soreness." These were the first words Mother Pharley spoke to her daughter after kissing her. She turned to Michael, and, to his surprise, gave him a buss, too.

Michael and Father Pharley followed the porters and the chattering women in comparative silence.

"I'll bet you're worn out after that trip from San Francisco to Chicago. It's a—"

"Yes."

"Strike good weather coming back?"

"Yes."

"Seasick?"

"I wasn't," Father Pharley responded, amused. "Mrs. Pharley was."

Silence fell over the two of them as they loaded themselves and the baggage alongside the women in Michael's automobile.

"We're not going to take you home, mother," Lilah announced. "You're going over to our house for dinner."

"Well, I don't want a thing to eat, but I'd like to be near a fire. Have you got one?"

"No, but the fires are all laid, and we can start them very shortly."

"No fire?" Mother Pharley spoke as if she has been warm the last few days, and we don't keep our house as hot as you do yours."

The effect of this studiously spoken sentence was to still Mother Pharley's tongue. Perhaps she comprehended the significance of her daughter's words—a declaration of independence.

Mother Pharley, having announced that she didn't want a thing to eat, proceeded to eat quite heartily of dinner, necessitating the replenishment of her plate at least three times. Father Pharley's hunger was less severe. He sat at the farther end of the table, quietly and furtively studying his daughter and her husband.

Were they happy?

"Smarter, dad?" Lilah laughed. "Cat got your tongue?"

"You know I never had a chance to laugh when your mother is around."

There laughs.

The dinner finished, they retired to the library.

"Pet," said Mrs. Pharley, laying her hands on her husband's shoulders, "you'd better run over to the house and get the fires started—perhaps Michael will run you over."

"Yes, I will," the latter agreed, promptly.

"Wait. There's no need of you two going into that cold old house tonight. Stay with us."

"That's what we ought to do," Mrs. Pharley decided. "Have you got a room with a grate-fire in it?"

"Michael's room has."

He started. Surely she wasn't going to turn over his room to them!

"You won't mind letting them have it tonight, will you, dear?"

He had a wild impulse to shout at her: "Yes, damn it."

What he said was: "No dear. That'll be just the place for them." He even smiled.

The HOOVER

It BEATS... as it Sweeps as it Cleans

Make this test now!

Only beating will dislodge the heavy, sandy, germ-laden dirt which soon becomes embedded deep in the nap of your rugs. Make this test now and prove it!

*Turn over a corner of a rug; with the handle of an ordinary table knife, or something of equal weight, give the under or warp side 15 to 25 sharp taps, and watch the dirt dance out from the nap depths onto a piece of paper; feel the destructive character of this grit. This is the dirt only beating will dislodge.

Correct use of The Hoover causes this embedded dirt to be vibrated to the surface by the rapid, gentle beating of the Hoover brush, as powerful suction lifts the rug from the floor, and draws all the dirt into the dust-tight bag.
